ACS POINT COUNTERPOINT 2026

COURSE OBJECTIVES

At the completion of this program, the participant will be able to:

- Detect methods for blending current practices with new knowledge to shape the best delivery of applicable acute critical care
- Describe and explain the proper delivery of care in the prehospital environment for the critically ill patient
- Identify the best attainable methods of care for the resuscitation of the traumatically injured patient utilizing the appropriate personnel, procedures, and processes
- Analyze the controversies in the appropriate approaches of surgical techniques in the care for the critically injured patient and/or surgical patient
- Explain the best practices of care for the critically injured patient utilizing previous case studies
- Develop strategies for ensuring appropriate transition of the critically injured patient to post-discharge

COURSE CONTENT

This meeting will address relevant issues in trauma, emergency general surgery, and acute care. The format of Point Counterpoint - a pro/con debate, panel discussions, and breakout sessions - will allow for critical analyses of the current body of evidence with interaction from the moderators, the presenters, and the meeting participants.
